Romans

An in-depth study of Paul's Letter

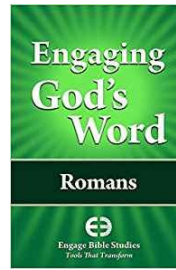

Masterfully written, the Apostle Paul's letter to the Romans clearly presents the many facets of God's grace available to all, because all have sinned.

This letter to the first-century church at Rome has played a crucial role as a catalyst for reform and renewal in the entire history of the Christian church. In this 30-lesson in-depth study, you will engage with transforming truths about who God

Community Bible Study "Engage" Prayer Group is an interdenominational Bible study in your community. People from different churches with varying levels of Bible knowledge gather in a caring community to study and grow in relationship with the Lord through individual study, small group discussions, effective teaching, and fellowship.

Please invite others to help form your group, or join in an existing small group of new friends.

is, what He has done, and why He loves us. It is the most complete exposition of the gospel, stating clearly everyone's need and means for salvation.

Romans is undoubtedly Paul's most important epistle, containing the most formal and systematic development of the doctrine of salvation—righteousness coming as a free gift from God, being received by faith alone.
